

OUR WISH

Aloha greetings, kind and true
Is this message sent to you?
May its spirit of goodwill
All our hearts and lives
enthrill.
And thru every Christmas
May its joys with each abide
And as New Year's chimes
doth ring
Still Aloha sweetly sing.

ANCIENT MARINER IS PUT ASHORE

After beating around and working up toward port all day Wednesday, her identity causing much speculation, as she was too far off to be made out, the British schooner Cecilia Sudden arrived off port from Levuka, Fiji, about 10 o'clock this morning, 56 days out.

The Sudden is commanded by a real "ancient mariner," named Capt. John Callaghan, who is in bad health due to his advanced age and wants to go into the hospital here while the schooner's first mate, Capt. Pontus Paulson, takes the vessel and her cargo to San Francisco. She is expected to go on this afternoon some time.

According to the story told customs officers by the Sudden's crew, Capt. Paulson is the real skipper. There was some labor trouble at Levuka and a refusal to load the schooner if Paulson was to command. The British authorities appointed Capt. Callaghan, who has been harbormaster or port pilot of Levuka for about a third of a century, to take the Sudden to San Francisco. Capt. Paulson was made first mate.

British Consul E. L. S. Gordon said at noon that Capt. Callaghan would go into the hospital here and Capt. Paulson would take the schooner to the coast. Capt. Callaghan was a shipmate of the notorious "Bully" Hayes in the South Seas. He says Hayes was not nearly so bad a man as he has been painted, and was a "decent old chap."

Noted Angler Interested In Armored Cars

It reads Lieut. Harold Morris now, Members of the game fishing colony in Honolulu will welcome the news that Lieut. Harold Morris of Denver was responsible for raising sufficient funds to purchase an armored motor car for the Colorado National Guard.

Morris was one of the noted sportsmen to visit Hawaii last year and his parties in his fishing boat, the Dixie Maru, were features of the winter season. It is expected that he will take enough time away from military duties to visit Hawaii again this winter. Morris, with Jimmy Jump, were the leading anglers to visit Hawaii last year. The car which was secured by the Colorado National Guard will carry three machine guns and was purchased at a cost of $3000.

PERSONALITIES

M'DUFFIE DENIES TWILEI IS OPEN

In answer to an editorial in the Star-Bulletin that Twilei vice is continuing under the eyes of the police, Chief McDuffie of the detective department said this morning that such was not the case to his knowledge or consent.

"There are only 12 girls still in Twilei," says the chief, "and these are being watched by our regular policemen. Possibly a map may slip in a back door occasionally when we're not watching, for we cannot have a man at every house, but certainly it is not being done openly. I have sent my men and the regular policemen are keeping a close tab on the inmates. We will arrest the first person who violates the law."

McDuffie says that there are about six of the girls who were formerly in Twilei living up town, but that they are being closely watched. Two of these who have been frequenting opium joints have been arrested and one will be released today when she comes to show the chief a ticket for the coast. Another is still under arrest.

Japanese girls who were in Twilei have scattered all over town and are very hard to keep track of, according to the chief, but one house is being watched at the present time.

RAILWAY MEN ARE TAKEN ON TRIP TO HALEIWA

F. W. Peters, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and a party of friends were the guests today of Fred C. Smith, general passenger agent, and George P. Denison, general manager of the Oahu Railway, on a trip to Haleiwa and return by special train. Luncheon was had at the Haleiwa Hotel.

"We are taking our distinguished visitor from Canada out today," said Smith just before starting, "to show him that there are good railways, like lots of other things, tucked away far out here in the Pacific."

The special train was made up of an observation car and engine.

PERCY CLEGHORN BADLY HURT IN STOCKTON, CAL.

Percy T. Cleghorn, formerly of Honolulu and one of the three Cleghorn brothers, was badly injured in a street car accident on Christmas Eve in Stockton, according to news received by friends here. Finding that he had some late presents to buy, he was hurrying downtown on a street car to make the purchases and stood on the running board on account of the crowd. A passing auto swept him off and he was badly hurt. He has a wife and two children.

ALL FOR THE BEST.

All's for the best, be sanguine and cheerful.

Troubles and sorrows are friends in disguise; Nothing but folly goes faithless and fearful.

Courage forever is happy and wise. All's for the best, if a man will but know it.

Providence wishes us all to be blest; This is no dream of the pundit or poet. Heaven is gracious, and all's for the best.

All's for the best, then fling away terrors. Meet all your fears and your foes in the van.

And in the midst of your dangers and errors, Trust like a child while you strive like a man.

All's for the best, unbiased, unbounded. Providence reigns from the East to the West.

And by both wisdom and virtue surrounded. Hope and be happy that all's for the best.
